What does this program support?

The Animating Toronto Parks grants program provides funding to professional artists, arts organizations, artist collectives, and non-profit organizations to create and present free arts programming in selected Toronto parks located in Etobicoke, East York, York, North York and Scarborough. For the purposes of this program, “arts programming” may include the presentation of dance, literary arts, music, theatre, visual and media arts, community-engaged arts, Indigenous arts, and other fields of artistic practice.

Animating Toronto Parks is a Strategic Funding Program managed by Toronto Arts Council (TAC), in partnership with Toronto Arts Foundation’s Arts in the Parks initiative, City of Toronto Arts & Culture Services, Parks, Forestry and Recreation (PF&R), Black Creek Community Farm, and community partner Park People.

The maximum grant in this program is $25,000. Grants awarded may be less than the full amount requested. Applicants are not required to secure other sources of funding. The payment of artists’ fees is a requirement of this program.

Grant recipients will be provided with:

- funding toward artist fees and production elements
- access to the park space (permit dates subject to approval by TAC and PF&R)
- coverage under the TAC’s liability insurance
- information regarding additional requirements (emergency action plan, waste and recycling diversion plan, etc.) or additional permits (special events permit notice, noise exemption, building permit, etc.)
- an introduction to City of Toronto PF&R permit staff and park supervisors, Park People, and local community/parks groups
- support under Toronto Arts Foundation’s Arts in the Parks initiative, including marketing, promotion, inclusion on the artsintheparksto.org website, wayfinding signage, onsite volunteers, assistance with local community outreach, and other support (participation in Arts in the Parks is a requirement of the program)

What is Arts In The Parks?

Arts in the Parks is a free city-wide initiative managed by Toronto Arts Foundation (TAF), in partnership with Toronto Arts Council (TAC), Parks, Forestry and Recreation (PF&R), and community partner Park People. Arts in the Parks offers a wide range of in-kind supports to artists and arts organizations working in parks across the city, such as support with marketing, community engagement, on-site wayfinding signage, and volunteer coordination. Arts in the Parks is a core resource for Animating Toronto Parks grants recipients. To learn more about Arts in the Parks please visit <https://artsintheparksto.org/>

Potential applicants from equity-seeking communities are encouraged to discuss their eligibility with the Program Manager in advance of submitting an application.

Park permits:

Any activity in a park (including rehearsals) will require a permit from Parks, Forestry and Recreation (PFR). Park permits are all subject to approval by PFR, taking into consideration existing permits and limitations on some parks. If you receive an Animating Toronto Parks grant, you will still need to apply to PRF for a special event permit. The special event permit fee will be waived so you do not need to budget for that, but there may be other costs associated with your activity in the park, such as noise exemptions or building permits. Be prepared to budget for these expenses. If your special events permit application is not approved by PFR, TAC, TAF and PFR staff will work with you to find an alternate park for your project. Be prepared to be patient and flexible.

What do I need to prepare?

The four main sections of the Animating Toronto Parks grant application are: Project Details, Project Description, Budget, and Support Material.

- Project Details: amount requested, project dates, park selection, weather contingency plan, and project summary.
- Project Description: Project Overview, Technical Requirements, Workplan, Outreach and Community Engagement Plan, Access Plan, and Project Contributors form and bios for all contributors.
- Budget: budget form, and supplementary budget notes.
- Support Material: audio/visual examples of your work.

How will my application be assessed?

Grants are awarded on a competitive basis by a Grant Review Panel of practicing artists (Peer Assessors). Representatives from TAC partner organizations, City of Toronto Parks, Forestry and Recreation, and Park People, will participate in the adjudication process in order to provide contextual information to the Peer Assessors. Peer Assessors are selected on the basis of their familiarity with a broad spectrum of artistic styles/practices and their direct experience with outdoor programming. Grant review panels are composed to ensure fair representation of gender, geographical and cultural diversity. The grant review panel's recommendations are approved by TAC Directors.

The grant review panel assesses projects according to the following criteria:

- Artistic merit
- Demonstrated capacity of the applicant to carry out the project as outlined
- Financial viability of the project, including adequate payment of artist fees, feasibility of the workplan, and adequate budgeting and planning for additional permits, washrooms and any site-related logistics
- Extent to which the proposed project will engage and include local communities.
- Quality of experience the proposed activity will provide to community.
- Project funding is recommended only at the discretion of the grant review panel. This is a competitive program. Applicants should be aware that meeting the general eligibility requirements does not guarantee that a grant will be recommended.

Included in the Equity Framework is an Equity Priority Policy, which states that if there are multiple well-assessed applications of equal merit in an adjudication round but insufficient funds in the grants budget to support all deserving candidates, applications proposed by applicants that self-identify as belonging to one of Toronto Arts Council's equity priority groups or that primarily involve or serve artists from these groups will be prioritized.

Projects that involve local artists (or are proposed by artists with strong existing ties and partnerships with the local community) are prioritized in this program.

Decisions of the grant review panel are final.

As the peer assessors and the applications change with each deadline, peer assessor evaluation of relative artistic merit will also vary. Unsuccessful applicants may succeed with another grant review panel and are encouraged to reapply.

How and when will I find out the application results?

TAC will send you an email when the results are available and will be able to log in to TAC Grants Online to receive their results. Notification will be sent at the end of February. Results are not released over the telephone.

What if my project changes?

Grants may be used only for the purposes outlined in the application. Changes to the scale, activities and timeframe of the project must be reported promptly to TAC. In such cases, TAC may require full or partial repayment of the grant. Changes to project dates must be reported to your Program Manager.

What do I do when I have completed the project?

Recipients are required to file a final report on their project. The final report is filled out and submitted online, just like the application. The due date for the final report will be included in the grant notification letter. Future applications will not be accepted unless reports on previous funding have been received and approved by TAC. Applicants with outstanding final reports will not be eligible for other strategic programs grants.
