For the first time in TAC's history, we've leveraged our ability to invest funds with many other organizations and funders, not only doubling the value of resources but increasing free access to the arts across the city.

Director and CEO

About Toronto Arts Council: Our Vision and Mandate

Toronto Arts Council (TAC) is the City of Toronto's funding body for artists and arts organizations. Since 1974, TAC has played a major role in the city's cultural industries by supporting a very broad range of artistic activity. From the emerging artist to the most established, from celebrated institutions to arts that challenge convention, TAC is typically the first funder to offer support. Today, TAC grants lead to exhibitions, performances, readings and workshops seen annually by over 7.5 million people. Through its ongoing funding, TAC cultivates a rich engagement between artists and audiences. It is proud to reflect Toronto's vibrancy through the diversity of artists, arts communities and audiences that it serves.

TAC has been emphasizing the importance of increased arts programming throughout the city, especially in the inner suburbs. This has been a focal point for our vision – Creative City, Block by Block. It aims to connect every neighbourhood in Toronto to the transformative and inspirational power of arts activity.

Toronto Arts Council nurtures the city's artistic scene, helping to move forward the innovative hub of creativity and artistic excellence that defines Toronto today.

Letter from the Chair, President and Director & CEO

We are thrilled to present the annual report for Toronto Arts Council's 2013 activities and programs.

In 2012, the City of Toronto increased TAC's funding by 40% for the 2013 fiscal year. This exciting development has allowed TAC to continue to support excellence and innovation in the arts in Toronto.

The funding increase is already making a far-reaching impact on TAC, Toronto's artists and the city. It has allowed TAC to offer stability to existing organizations while providing significant new support for even more culturally diverse arts organizations, emerging arts groups and community-engaged arts projects, with a focus on the inner suburbs and youth.

TAC has developed its strategic priorities, and its approach to disbursing the new funding, in a way that is both responsive to the needs of the City's evolving arts community, and to the City's priorities. With this new funding, TAC has begun to address major funding inequities in the operating program, as well as the funding gaps in the projects and individual programs. Strategic funding programs have been designed to enhance support for community engaged arts initiatives. TAC is also leading change through targeted funds, developing and encouraging partnerships, leveraging timely opportunities, and continuing to be responsive to innovation.

In 2013, TAC disbursed nearly $14 million in grants, providing an essential service to the city's many talented artists and organizations that rely on TAC's support to continue to create a vibrant cultural scene in the city. We are proud that the disbursement of these funds is a transparent, accessible, and fair process. We do this by being a part of the artistic community in every sense: attending hundreds of concerts, shows, exhibitions, plays, readings, and more; hosting workshops and roundtable conversations; and bringing together the arts community to discuss important issues facing us all.

We would like to thank the artists and arts champions who have served on our board as chairs of arts discipline committees in 2013: Nova Bhattacharya, Chair of the Dance Committee; Andrew Pyper, Chair of the Literary Committee; Dallas Bergen and Josh Grossman, Co-Chairs of the Music Committee; Moynan King and John Van Burek, Co-Chairs of the Theatre Committee, Ruth Howard, Chair of the Community Arts Committee, and Jessica Wyman and Danis Goulet, Co-Chairs of the Visual and Media Arts Committee. Thanks to all committee members for their generous contribution of time, energy, passion and expertise throughout the year.

Toronto Arts Council is fortunate to have an active and dedicated board team, who work together to ensure effective accountability for all Toronto Arts Council's activities. They are a pillar of support for Toronto's artists, and we would like to acknowledge their important work. We would especially like to highlight the efforts of those Board members who completed their terms of office in 2013: Curtis Barlow, Danis Goulet, Natalie Lue and Jessica Wyman. Most particularly we acknowledge the contribution of Karen Tisch who served as President of the Board from 2007 through 2013. This was a period of tremendous growth and great achievement, none of which would have been possible without Karen's leadership and support.

We invite you to peruse the following pages and explore the new and exciting programs that TAC has implemented in 2013 to advance the arts in the city, and we thank you for your ongoing support and enthusiasm for the amazing art and artists that make Toronto such a great place to live, work and play.

Toronto Arts Facts, published by our sister organization Toronto Arts Foundation, is a booklet containing key information about the arts in Toronto. It is compiled from a wide variety of research studies and statistical resources by Jini Stolk, Creative Trust Fellow, with Kathleen McLeod and Kasia Gladki.

Grants Programs: Toward a Creative City, Block by Block

In April 2013, Toronto City Council approved a funding increase of $4 million to Toronto Arts Council's Grants Program budget taking it from $10 to $14 million per year.

The funding increase is already making a far-reaching impact on TAC, Toronto's artists and the city. We offer stability to existing organizations while providing significant new support for culturally diverse arts organizations, emerging arts groups and community-engaged arts projects, with a focus on the inner suburbs and youth.

Following broad public and community consultation, we developed our strategic priorities, and an innovative approach to disbursing the new funding in order to be responsive to the needs of the City's evolving arts community.

Arts Discipline Funding

Supporting the city's artists and arts organizations through an established and effective granting program has been our core business for 39 years. Discipline-specific programs provide assistance for ongoing operations or for specific projects. In particular, new funds are allowing increased investment in Growth & Sustainability, as we begin to address major funding inequities in the operating program, and address the funding gaps in the projects and individual programs.

Strategic Funding

TAC identified areas where strategic investment is required to address areas not covered through the arts discipline programs:

Community Connections enhance support for community engaged arts initiatives with a focus on youth arts and expanded audience access in diverse communities and outside the downtown core.

Innovation & Partnerships lead change through targeted funds, develop and encourage partnerships, leverage timely opportunities, and encourage and respond to innovation.

TAC Operations

TAC's Operations support staff, offices, jury fees, adjudication costs, websites, grants database and outreach tools. With growing public awareness of increased arts funding comes increased responsibility to ensure access to grants information across the City, to evaluate the effectiveness of new spending and programs offered to date, to plan for future implementation and to communicate the results with City Council, the arts community and the public.

In 2013 Toronto Arts Council received an increase of $200,000 to its operations budget bringing the total budget to $1,434,100 or 9.1% of its total budget.

Working within the operations framework, we are proud to have achieved great success in addressing a major increase to granting responsibilities at the lowest possible cost through partnerships with other organizations. By the end of 2013, many new grants programs and funding streams were introduced in partnership agreements where TAC shared adjudication and evaluation responsibilities.

TAC's relationship with its sister organization Toronto Arts Foundation has amplified the impact of TAC's investment through resource-sharing, research and strategic initiatives designed to animate the arts and engage the public all across Toronto. The Foundation has paved the way for new programs, partnerships and new ways of thinking about the arts. In 2013, the Foundation invested over three quarters of a million dollars in targeted initiatives through donations, sponsorships and partnerships. For more information about the Foundation, please visit their website: www.torontoartsfoundation.org

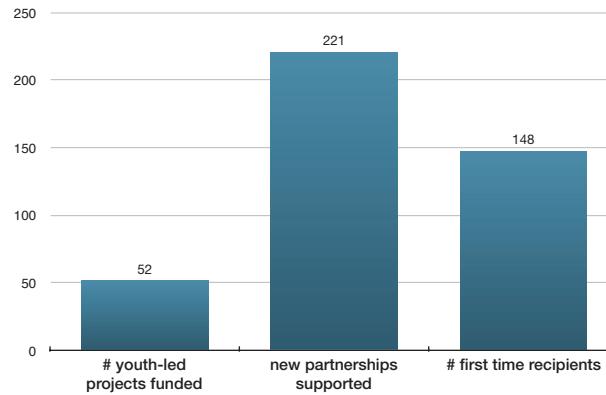

TAC Operations Growth 2012-2013

- ▶ Number of new grant programs introduced: 8
- ▶ Number of new applications received, 2013:
777 = 51% increase in the first year of new funding
- ▶ Number of new grants awarded, 2013:
328 = 48% increase in the first year of new funding

The final impact of increased grants funding will not be evident for two or three years as grant reports and financial statements are available. However, early evidence clearly demonstrates a significant impact of increased investment including the creation of new partnerships, increased access to funding by youth and newcomer artists and an estimated $23 million in funds leveraged by TAC grants from other sources.
